ART IN THE OF ATHENS

SUMMER SENSES

STELLA PYLARINOU

Pallas Athena Grecotel Boutique Hotel welcomes Summer Senses, an exhibition of works by Stella Pylarinou. Summer's insouciance permeates this show, a flowing collection of the colors of East and West, sensations inspired by the sun and sea, memories of summer love, a sweet nostalgia, elusive dreams, the carefree spirit of childhood. A stroll among these works is a dream-like journey. Stella Pylarinou, a teacher by profession, studied art under Dimitris Maninis for fourteen years. A restless spirit, she has taken part in numerous group painting and photography shows. Her work expresses an inner need for communication which she conveys through a visual code that speaks to the human soul. Developing the image of reality, she creates her own myths in her work, presenting the world through her own vision as she discovers hidden meanings in inanimate objects that inspire the imagination and the emotions. Through her distinctive interventions, she combines the blurry image of the photographic frame with contemporary processing and art techniques to highlight the main theme.
