

Gabriel Grama

Architectural Passages

Gabriel creates his own personal language for painting calm and serene landscapes. The microcosm and natural purity that it evokes, the warm rich colours and the absence of morphological images emphasize the architectural composition of his paintings. The landscape emerges while highlighting the expressive potential of the artist. The fanciful depictions of houses and bright colours transform Gabriel's paintings into magical landscapes. Imaginative places that seduce the viewer. The lack of human presence in his works immerses the viewer into a silent dream world...

The colour defines and interprets a world overflowing with serenity, it is tiny, perfect, a fairy tale realm. The comforting tones and synergy between them and space exude an emotional warmth.

The lack of any background and absence of a horizon that distinguishes the earth from the sky focuses the viewers' attention on the seemingly frozen architectural details of the landscape which are boldly brought into the foreground.

The rich tones of colour highlight architectural details with a decorative sense. Grama's work is clearly his personal interpretation of the fantastical landscapes he has created, inviting the viewer to journey into his privately designed world.
