Duration:
27.11.2017 – 28.2.2018

 Interpreting dreams as narratives—unique, codified narratives—painter Lila Koufopoulou creatively basks in the wonderful invisible world of the subconscious, capturing its images with a chromatic rendering and emotional geniality. Dreams, allegories, imaginary issues imprinted like theatre stages artfully project the soul's manifestations in titles like: Emergence of New Emotions, The Whirl of Joy, Healing Heart, The Dream Wave, Angel's Wings, Love and Grace, Foreseeing the future, Fish out of familiar waters, Fireworks...

When a soul speaks, nothing is incomprehensible or foreign. And, fittingly the exhibition's title, Dream Stories, highlights the immersion in every individual's innermost workings and interprets this invisible world, helping each person's self-development, liberating them from fear or anything negative thus completely the person's communion with his self.

Like another oracle, the artist draws inspiration from her dreams and expresses them visually on large surfaces and abstractly like an illustration of transcendence. The shapes' movement seems perpetual and is served by the gentle breeze wafting through them. The warm colors dominate the soft blue background, the invisible dream world suggests introversion, innocence; the lack of plasticity imbues the canvas with a looser composition and the progressive predominance of the rich color palette. Wander among the artist's paintings and absorb her personal artistic language. The feeling of internal serenity and sweet balance will affect you!
